

OPEN E.R. POSITION

Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona

The position is funded by the Marie Curie ITN MAnET "Metric Analysis for Emerging Technologies", whose description can be found at <http://manet.dm.unibo.it/index.php>

The selected candidate will work at the UAB node of the network, and take active part in all the events organized by the network. Secondments will also be studied.

Duration: 2 years

Starting date: September 2014

Salary: around 40.000 €/year (before taxes)

Academic requisites: at the time of recruitment, applicants must have at least 4 years and at most 5 years (full time) of research experience (having a PhD is not needed)

Mobility requisites: applicants should demonstrate they have not been living in Spain for longer than 12 months during the last 3 years.

Recommended formation: Any knowledge in some of the following areas might be of interest in the selection process: mathematical analysis, geometric analysis, partial differential equations, optimal mass transport, geometric measure theory, geometric function theory

Host research group: mathematical analysis group (UAB)

Job description: research in mathematical analysis and partial differential equations.

Deadline for applications: may 30th, 2014

How to apply: Send an email to departament@mat.uab.cat with the following documents:

- PDF copy of the applicant's curriculum vitae.
- PDF copy of the applicant's identity document (with photo)
- Short presentation letter (including a short description of the applicant's research interests, publications, etc).
- Names and email addresses of 2 reference persons.